Thank you very much. I just send the draft final to Wendy and Dan. I am having Nikia talk to legal, I would like to make a statement at the beginning of my presentation that I am not making any accusations and all the data that I am presenting is anecdotal at best. Without the samples and the raw instrument output, why we are seeing these results may never be known. However, the results do seem to be very different from the published literature. I am just presenting the data and will let the audience draw their own conclusions

Deb and Greg think you all are doing a great job in messaging the meconium study issue. They just wanted to reinforce that for today's presentation that we not get ahead of ourselves regarding our conclusions. So, just passing that along.

It would be good for Betsy and me to see the presentation before the meeting in case we get questions from Deb/Greg.

Thanks for doing such a great job on this.
